An aerial, top-down view of a boat's deck. The deck is finished with light-colored wood planking. A large, bright red tufted sofa is the central feature, with a woman in a white shirt and dark shorts lying on it. To the right, a man in a white t-shirt is at the helm station, which has a stainless steel countertop and various controls. Two red chairs are positioned near the helm. In the foreground, there is a table with two white chairs. The boat is moving through the water, leaving a white wake.
